Allies Advance On West-Central Front In Korea

Tokyo, Saturday (AP) — Allied forces edged their front line back north in west-central Korea yesterday for the first time since the Reds' big spring offensive ground to a halt.

There also was evidence of some enemy withdrawals in central Korea where the next heavy Communist blow is expected.

AP Correspondent John Randolph reported that Allied troops along the Pukhan river reoccupied unopposed part of a deep no-man's land northeast of Seoul.

A clash with 7,000 Reds north-west of Seoul was the most solid contact of Allied patrols along the 120-mile Korean front. The Allied attackers broke off the fight at dusk and returned to their lines.

Tank patrols entered Uijongbu, 11 miles north of Seoul yesterday for the second straight day. They met only light resistance west of the road junction. It appeared the Chinese Reds were not going to defend Uijongbu immediately if the Allies wanted to take it back.

There have been reports that the half million Reds, regrouping after suffering losses of more than 80,000 in the first round of their drive, might strike next in the mountainous center.

But a spokesman at U. S. Eighth Army headquarters in Korea said that half of a Red force spotted in the mountains north of Chunchon was withdrawing. The north-bound column included 500 horses. Chinchon, eight miles south of the 38th parallel, was yielded to the Reds when the Allies rolled with the punch of the April 22 offensive.

In the same sector, B-26 light bombers last night struck Chinese concentrations north of Kapyong. Kapyong is 12 miles southwest of Chunchon and 32 miles northeast of Seoul.

In the east-central area, where the Allied line swings north of the 38th parallel, United Nations forces clashed with a Red battalion east of Inje. Inje is four miles north of 38 and more than 75 miles northeast of Seoul.

The Allied advance north of the Pukhan in west-central Korea was fueled primarily at preventing the Chinese from using the area to assemble. The unopposed reoccupation was carried out in daylight.

Wholesale Prices Decline Despite Rise In Foods

Washington, (AP) — Despite advances for meat and other foods, wholesale prices dropped 0.1 per cent in the week ended May 1.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics, reporting this yesterday, said foods continued upward with another rise of 0.3 per cent. However, farm products fell off 0.6 per cent, textiles 0.2 per cent, and chemicals 0.1 per cent with other major commodity groups remaining unchanged.

Meats advanced sharply—0.8 per cent during the week, the bureau reported. The index on the meat group stands now at 279.1 per cent of the 1926 average, which would be considered 100.

The index of all wholesale commodities on May 1 was 183.4 per cent of the 1926 average. That was 1.9 per cent above the level of Jan. 23 (two days before the price freeze), 16.9 per cent above the pre-Korean war level, and 18.6 per cent above a year ago.

Calls For Enforcement
Red Lion, (AP)—Church-going people were urged yesterday to "speak out and demand" that law enforcement agencies wipe out gambling. The Central Pennsylvania conference of the Evangelical United Brethren church approved the appeal.

House Trims Appropriation $693,000,000

Washington, (AP)—The House yesterday slashed $693,137,110 from the independent offices appropriation bill, ending a day of voting by trimming President Truman's emergency fund.

It applied reductions to almost all of the 27 agencies financed by the bill for the fiscal year beginning July 1 and clamped a lid on new public housing by limiting to 5,000 the number of units that may be started during the year.

Then it passed the $6,144,540,355 bill by voice vote and sent it to the Senate, clearing the decks for action next week on a $720,157,433 appropriation bill for the Agriculture department. The farm bill, usually a Congress "untouchable" drew a 12 per cent cut yesterday from the Appropriations committee.

Among the many amendments to the independent offices bill approved during the day was the Jensen amendment designed to cut down on government personnel during the 1952 fiscal year. This amendment has been added to other money bills passed this year by the House.

Sponsored by Rep. Jensen (R-Iowa), it would prohibit Federal agencies from filling more than 25 per cent of their civil service vacancies occurring during the year, unless personnel dropped below 80 per cent of what it is on July 1, 1951. Exempted are employees in veterans' medical facilities, the General Accounting office, the Atomic Energy commission and those shifted from one job to another within their own agency.

Jensen has estimated his system would save the taxpayers $1,000,000,000 next year if applied to all agencies.

The $720,157,433 recommended by the Appropriations committee for the Agriculture department is subject to approval by the full House. The Senate Agriculture committee and the Senate also have yet to pass on it.

The independent offices bill was the fourth of the big money measures for fiscal 1952 passed this year by the House. So far, the House has cut them approximately $886,000,000 below the estimated $24,000,000,000 requested by the President.

Reds Apologize For Shooting Of American Soldier

Vienna, Austria (AP)—Soviet authorities expressed regret last night at the death of a U. S. military policeman from Russian machine pistol bullets and agreed to join the Americans in an investigation.

Cpl. Paul Gresens, 28, of Rochester, N. Y., was killed in a street of the city's international sector early yesterday after he and his partner, Cpl. Jack Morgan, 23, of Keokuk, Ia., challenged two Russian soldiers bearing arms.

House Receives Marine Measure

Washington (AP) — The Senate passed yesterday a bill which would nearly double the authorized strength of the Marine Corps. The measure now goes to the House.

The bill sets a top limit of 400,000 men for the corps. The present strength is about 200,000. Present law fixes no specific size for the corps, but limits it to 20 per cent of Navy strength. The Marine Corps is a branch of the Navy.

The measure provides also that the commandant of the Marine Corps be designated a consultant to the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

HERE'S A GENERAL VIEW of the Senate caucus room as Gen. Douglas MacArthur (arrow) was besieged by news cameramen. One enterprising cameraman uses a senator's desk to photograph the five star general. Although the Joint Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committee hearing was closed to the public, all members of the U. S. Senate were permitted to attend as observers. Ireland Orders Dail Dissolved

Dublin, Ireland (AP) — Bickering within Premier John Costello's government led last night to an order dissolving the Dail Eireann (the lower house of Parliament).

A general election—which may return the Brooklyn-born Eamon de Valera to the premiership—was set for May 30.

President Sean T. O'Kelly issued the orders at the request of Costello, who took office in February, 1948. All parties except de Valera's soldiers of destiny (Fianna Fail) were represented in Costello's cabinet.

The government coalition included a handful of independents, who have been challenging Costello's policies recently. Rising living costs increased the stresses, though Ireland's financial position has improved so much that American Marshall plan aid was suspended this week by mutual agreement. Ireland had received $146,200,000 from the United States in the last three years.

Senate Confirms Hawaii Appointee

Washington (AP) — The Senate yesterday confirmed Oren E. Long to be governor of Hawaii.

He was nominated by President Truman to succeed Ingram M. Stainback, appointed to a judgeship.

NPA Restricts Construction Of Public Buildings, Factories

Washington, (AP)—The government yesterday slapped building controls on "luxury" homes—dwellings costing over $35,000—and on big apartment houses, major factories and public buildings.

The National Production Authority (NPA) decreed that where structures may not be started, without its specific approval, effective at once.

Industrial structures and public projects fall under NPA's control when more than 25 tons of steel are used. This extends the government's construction regulations over such projects as:

Schools, churches, hospitals, highways, bridges, water and sewer systems, pipe lines, public utility and rail road construction.

Newspaper plants and radio and television broadcasting buildings, previously exempted from the restraints imposed in January on all commercial building construction, now will require NPA authorization regardless of the steel tonnage used.

The order was NPA's first direct control applied to residential construction. Previous restraints have been indirect—such as the credit controls governing down payments and mortgage terms.

As of yesterday, however, NPA permission must be obtained to start any single-family residence whose estimated cost exceeds $35,000.

The same is true for any apartment structure in excess of three stories and basement.

The requirement for Federal approval on projects using 25 tons of steel applies to all construction jobs except those covered by other NPA controls.

The "growing critical shortage of structural steel" and the requirements of defense and defense-supporting industries are the reasons for the sweeping order, NPA administrator Manly Fleischmann said.

Early in the day NPA announced a new 5 per cent cut in steel for passenger car and station wagons, effective June 1. This will mean a total 25 per cent reduction from the auto industry's steel consumption in first-half 1950.

Reaffirm Friendship

Washington, (AP)—A resolution reaffirming the friendship of Americans for all peoples of the world, including those of the Soviet Union, passed the Senate yesterday by unanimous voice vote.

Church Members Work To Bring In The Sheaves

Rushville, Ind. (AP) — When members of the United Presbyterian church here sing the old hymn, "Bringing in the Sheaves," they mean it.

They turned farmers yesterday to plow a 55-acre field the church has rented. It will be seeded in corn, and wheat will be sown in another 55 acres.

The crops are to pay for church repairs.

Army Calls For 20,000 Draftees

Washington (AP)—The Army issued a new low in draft calls yesterday—20,000 men in June. The Air Force said at the same time it would add more than 40,000 women by June, 1952.

The Army's call for June was the lowest number in any monthly call since the draft was resumed last fall.

Some 550,000 men have been drafted or placed on Army call since then. In each of the first three months this year, the Army got 80,000 men. The April draft was 40,000 and the May quota was 40,000.

Officials said the reductions in calls were due to large scale volunteering and to fewer Korean war casualties than had been expected.

The Women's Air Force strength will be raised to about 48,000 under the new order. The force will include about 4,000 officers.

Speedy Action Urged

Washington, (AP)—A delegation of independent meat packers yesterday urged Price Director Michael V. Disalle to speed action in issuing price control orders for sausage, veal and pork products. Disalle told the group of about a dozen that these orders should come along relatively fast.

Opposes Defense Secretary's Move For Korean Peace

Washington (AP) — Gen. Douglas MacArthur declared yesterday he understood Secretary of Defense Marshall was willing to discuss giving major concessions to the Chinese Reds as the basis for a peace treaty.

He declared Marshall took the stand that a peace conference might well take up the questions of turning over the island of Formosa to Communist China and granting the Reds a seat in the United Nations.

The ousted Far East commander also implied that the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, headed by Gen. Omar N. Bradley, might sometimes be subject to "pressure." He said he would accept their judgments on such issues as the size of the country's military forces, for example, if their opinion was "a strictly professional one, without any currents of obligation or pressure from anything else."

The 71-year-old soldier, deposed from his commands by President Truman, spent a second day of more than seven hours upholding and explaining his views before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committees.

At the end, fresher than most of the 26 senators who sat in judgment on his case, he wanted to continue, but the committees decided to recess and hear him again starting at 10:30 a.m. today.

He vehemently opposed letting the island bastion of Formosa fall into Red hands, declaring that in hostile possession it would "breach completely" this country's Pacific defense line.

Other high points of his testimony:

One—He is "very definitely convinced" that Russia conspired with Red China and North Korea.

Two—But war with Russia is "not inevitable."

Three—In his public pronouncements before his ouster, he did not feel bound by "gag rule" because the American people "are entitled to certain basic facts when it involves the lives of their sons."

Four—He believes his ouster by President Truman for publicly disagreeing with administration policy was "the judgment of one individual"—presumably meaning the President.

He refused "to be drawn into politics" when asked about statements made by Senator Taft (R-Ohio) backing the general's Far Eastern views but calling for a cut in the armed services manpower goal. Also, told by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) that Taft has said he has no confidence in General Bradley, MacArthur replied: "Senator, I guess this is a free country. Every fellow can have his own opinion."

Under a barrage of sometimes critical questions, MacArthur steadfastly stuck to his proposals for stronger measures against Red China—a blockade of the Chinese coast, aerial action over Manchuria and the use of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists now on Formosa.

After relating his understanding of Secretary Marshall's stand on Formosa and a U. N. seat for China, MacArthur declared he did not know the position of the government on these issues—presumably meaning the position of President Truman.

On war with Russia, the general said: "No sir, I do not feel that war is inevitable. I believe that the great masses of the world are inevitably against war. I believe that is so among the Russian masses, just as it is among our own people."

But he declared he is "very definitely convinced" that Russia, Red China and North Korea conspired to attack South Korea.

He said the invasion of South Korea last June "could not have been launched by the North Koreans without the supplies that were furnished by the Soviet."

And he added: "It could not have been kept up without the actual national assistance by the Chinese Red Army."

These were among the highlights of another day of testimony that lasted for more than seven hours. At first, it was planned to wind up the MacArthur hearing last night—but then it was decided that the general would return for questioning again today at 10:30 a.m.

Referring to his dismissal by the President, MacArthur said: "I do not challenge it in the slightest degree directly or indirectly. It was the judgment of one individual."

"The final judgment will be made by public opinion and the historical future."

He said he had been "completely unaware" of any insubordination that would justify his dismissal.

There have been reports that Secretary Marshall and the Joint Chiefs of Staff were in agreement with Mr. Truman on the ouster move. And some Republicans have said Secretary of State Acheson was involved in the decision.

But Senator Fulbright indicated that Acheson opposed MacArthur's dismissal. The senator asked the general if he would be surprised to know "that the secretary of state in fact opposed your recall vigorously in discussions at the highest level."

MacArthur replied he had never met Acheson and that he never had blamed the secretary for his dismissal.

He gave these views after telling the senators the reported stand Marshall had taken on a possible Korean peace treaty.

He said he understands Secretary Marshall has vetoed a recommendation by the Joint Chiefs of Staff that Korean peace talks "should specifically not include the recognition of any seating of Red China in the United Nations or a consideration of turning over Formosa" to China.

Referring to the Joint Chiefs' recommendation, MacArthur added: "It was, I understand, in those two particulars, disapproved by the secretary of defense, who said that he believed that those two items might be considered at the conference—the peace conference."

Earlier, the general declared that Formosa must be kept out of Communists' hands at all costs because its loss would threaten Japan and the Philippines and "invite a third world war."

The statement about Marshall was drawn from MacArthur by Senator Knowland (R-Calif.), who has bitterly opposed any U.N. recognition of Red China.

MacArthur said: "The recommendations of the Joint Chiefs of Staff went to the secretary of defense. The secretary of defense forwarded their recommendations as I understand it to the secretary of state, but disagreed with them on those two points."

The former Far East commander, defending the actions which preceded his ouster by President Truman, declared any military officer has the right to criticize his superiors—and called a statement by Mr. Truman "all tommyrot." This was in denial of a statement that MacArthur had refused to let the Central Intelligence agency operate in Tokyo.

Facing a barrage of critical questions, MacArthur told senators he does not believe in the "gag rule" for himself or any officer of lesser rank in taking issue with those in higher command.

"It seems to me that the American people are entitled to certain basic facts when it involves the lives of their sons, and, perhaps the future of our country," he testified.

He insisted that any brigadier general on his staff would have had the right to take issue with his (MacArthur's) policies by writing to a congressman so long as he did it in a "courteous, polite way."

School To Buy Atomic Film

Cresco — Acting on opinions of military leaders that "this spring and summer will be the most dangerous period America has ever faced," and that preparations must be made for any eventuality, Barrett High School Student council voted this week to purchase a copy of the Civil Defense film, "Survival Under Atomic Attack."

This film, based on the booklet of the same title prepared by the U. S. Government tells exactly what to do, should the bomb drop.

The six secrets of survival, whether at home, in school, at business, in a factory or shopping are vividly presented in this film.

Besides showing the film to all grades in the Barrett school system the Student council will make the film available to all service organizations and civic groups in the community.

Interested organizations should either contact Andrew W. Lewis, supervising principal or Roy L. Seams, faculty adviser of the council and director of the visual education department.

Hypsy Gap Forest Fire Believed Of Incendiary Origin

Blaze Rages Near Farm Properties

Farm properties in the Hypsy Gap area about a mile west of McMichael's were endangered by fire believed to have been of incendiary origin yesterday afternoon. The fire, reported about 1:45 p. m., raged for several hours before being brought under control. It is estimated that about 300 acres of land were burned over.

A second fire in the Bushkill area of Pike county broke out in two sections around 4:15 in the afternoon, but was also reported under control early at night.

E. Clyde Pyle, district forester, flew over both sections in a plane to assist in directing the fire fighters in their work.

The Hawk and Martin farms for a time were threatened in the Hypsy Creek section, but the fire fighters by backfiring kept the march of flames from reaching farm properties, Mr. Pyle reported.

The fire burned mostly brush, although some valuable second growth timber was also included in the territory ravaged by the fire. This fire was under control before 7 p. m., Pyle said.

Crews of fire fighters under Warden Floyd Moyer and Inspector George Raish fought the flames vigorously. A truck and equipment from the Stroudsburg headquarters under the direction of Paul Dury was sent to the scene to help halt the onward march of the flames, made more difficult by reason of the comparatively high winds driving them toward the farm buildings in the area.

The fires in the Pike county region were in the Bushkill section. One was directly west of the Camp Hugh Beaver, the Easton YMCA recreation center, located a few miles west of Bushkill. It was still burning at 7:30 last night but practically under control, Mr. Pyle stated. A couple hundred acres were burned over and reached within about a half mile of the camp.

Fire fighters were hampered by the winds, but they finally halted the march of flames along a wood-road.

The other fire, which broke out at approximately at the same time of the former was in a tract between Bushkill and Camp Tamiment. Firefighters got this under control by backfiring along the wood roads. About 75 acres were burned over, Mr. Pyle estimated.

Wardens Paul DePue and Harry Garris, of Bushkill and Inspector Ralph Angle, of Dingmans Ferry, were in charge of the firefighters in the territory.

Warden Frank Smith took a crew from the Marshalls Creek section to the scene. They were accompanied by Chief Ralph Miller of the Marshalls Creek fire department.

District Forester Pyle stated last night that there had been no new outbreaks in the Cresco and Woodale areas visited by the big outbreaks on Wednesday.

Weatherman Sees Pleasant Days Ahead

Indications point to a pleasant weekend, Michael Hannon, Daily Record weather observer, reported last night. He said that while there would be some clouds, there will be plenty of sunshine today with the mercury in the upper 60s and fair and cool at night with low in the 40s.

Sunday, he said, will be fair with some cloudiness and a little warmer in the afternoon.

The high yesterday was 64 and low 44, making the mean 54 degrees. Winds from the southeast averaged 8 mph.

Cool Canadian air is still coming from the north, Hannon said, which is the cause of the very dry weather conditions. There has been comparatively little rain the past month.

Hannon consequently warned those taking outings or picnics over the weekend to exert care not to neglect fires.

Governor Pushes For Senate Enactment Of Income Tax Bill

Harrisburg, (AP)—Early enactment of Gov. John S. Fine's proposal for a one-half of one per cent personal income tax may pave the way for a mid-June adjournment of the Legislature.

The Republican administration is pushing for Senate clearance of the House-passed income tax within two weeks, said a GOP senator who declined quotation by name.

Any delay beyond two weeks, he added, would set back an adjournment by that much time beyond June 15.

Once the tax program is cleared, the rush to get out of Harrisburg will be the prime topic of the Legislature. Most of the lawmakers want to get in their licks during the July 24 primary election campaign.

Some casualties of the final drive to adjourn could be legislation to create a fair employment practices commission, to permit the sale of colored oleomargarine, to set up a constitution convention to revamp Pennsylvania's basic law, to re-apportion House and Senate legislative districts and to increase penalties for overloaded trucks.

Sponsors of these bills, however, plan to salvage them next week from the Legislature's discard. Both House and Senate are expected to be asked to discharge committees holding up the disputed bills.

Meanwhile, introduction of nearly 60 appropriation bills in the House and Senate this week provided another tipoff on the restlessness of the lawmakers to get out of Harrisburg.

The House and Senate Appropriations committee plan next week to complete more than a month of hearings. Testimony on the need for State grants was heard from department heads, State institutions and State-aided colleges.

The general appropriations bill, vehicle for most major grants for operation of the State government for two years, is traditionally introduced about two weeks before adjournment.

The weekend held at York, Pa., in the Hotel York.

The following ladies of the auxiliary of the Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Co., served lunch at the all day home economic meeting held at the fire hall Thursday: Mrs. P. W. Meixsell, Mrs. Joseph Deady, Mrs. Norman Greenmoyer, Mrs. Grant Knowles, Mrs. Willard Shoemaker, Mrs. Oscar Bonser, Mrs. John Gower, Mrs. Russell Kresge and Mrs. Anna M. Serfas. $70 was cleared between the meal and the sale of pasties to take home.

Meest was reported to have suffered severe lacerations of the scalp and to be suffering from possible concussion.

The young student was hurt when he was thrown from his cycle near the Dewey Robbins tavern, in the Bushkill section and was removed to the hospital in the ambulance.

Bangor Fire Companies To Dine Here

Bangor—The Rescue, Second ward and Liberty fire companies at a joint meeting last night decided to attend the annual banquet of the Firemen's Relief association at the Penn-Stroud hotel, Stroudsburg, Thursday night, May 24.

They also decided to participate in the parade of the Four County Firemen's association at Lansford Saturday, June 16, and at Alpha, N. J., Saturday, July 14.

It was agreed to have the foreman and assistant foreman of each company, together with seven volunteer firemen accompany the fire chief, Benjamin Albert on a fire inspection tour of the borough Tuesday, May 8, from 7 to 8 p. m.

The Rescue company, with John Correll, the president, voted to hold their street festival in front of the municipal building on N. First St., June 7-9, with George Kutz and Miles Heller co-chairmen of arrangements.

Clyde Grigg, the president, presided over the Second ward company meeting when Richard Stenlake reported on plans to secure a band for the Lansford parade. August 16-18 were set as the dates for the annual carnival, with Ralph Correll chairman of committee in charge.

The Liberty company, Robert Baskwell, president, awarded Burton Smith the contract for painting the fire hall.

Tickets are still available at Kresge's Drug store, Joe Barnes' counter at Wyckoff's and from various members of the Rotary club. They will also be on sale at the door of the auditorium.

One of the great mixed choral groups in collegiate circles of the nation, the Tulsa group is trained and directed by Arthur Hestwood, a product of Fred Waring famed musical organization and training.

Waring arrangements and many in the Waring pattern will feature the varied program ranging from top religious groups, to the semi-classic, famous moderns and great Negro spirituals.

One of the nation's top-ranking firms among American music publishers—the Shawnee Press of East Stroudsburg—has published many of the famous Waring arrangements which will be used.

Thousands of singers in school, college, church community and industrial choral groups are using Waring arrangements, published by Shawnee Press, a Waring enterprise.

Mr. Hestwood's group of young singers were heard a year ago. They gave a concert at Shawnee Inn which attracted major attention.

Dog's Tail Gets Caught In Washer

Philadelphia (AP)—Mrs. James Brown faced this dilemma Thursday to save her automatic washing machine or her dog's tail.

She unhesitatingly chose the dog's tail and ordered her washing machine to be mutilated.

Mrs. Brown's black springer spaniel, Judy, wagged her tail too far while she was watching the washing chores. Her tail disappeared into the machine's motor.

Mrs. Brown turned off the motor and summoned policemen. They gave her the choice: cut off Judy's tail or cut the washing machine belt.

The lady of the house finished her washing by hand. Judy, her tail intact, scampered upstairs away from the mechanical mystery.

Oath Of Loyalty

It is difficult to understand why the members of Pennsylvania's General Assembly should work themselves into such a lather over the loyalty oath bill which now, apparently, is to be side-tracked in favor of legislation designed to curb Communist influences in the state.

It is difficult because one cannot see how there can be objections on the part of any loyal American to taking such an oath. Most citizens consider that their loyalty should be unquestioned, and in the main this is true, but what harm can possibly come to them through the simple mechanical motion of raising their right hand and swearing again to defend the land in which they live?

Rather it would seem to be a demonstration of guilt where the individual hotly refuses to take the oath. If the conscience is clear, why the excitement? If the individual citizen is honest with his government, why the reluctance to repeat his public pronouncement of loyalty?

Certainly it seems unusual, to say the least, that men of good will in our land should seek to avoid taking the oath for any of a number of rather ridiculous reasons.

If they are loyal men and women, there can be no question.

So why all the uproar in the General Assembly?

Duff Calls For Unity

It has been good to hear Senator Duff raise his voice to ask that the Truman-MacArthur discussions be conducted on a plane that will insure the greatest good for America and not become a mere partisan issue.

Pennsylvania's senator has been in the early group to advocate with vigor that the discussions be decidedly more temperate than the loud partisan arguments that have prevailed to date. What counts, as Senator Duff has said, is "not whether we are Republicans or Democrats, but whether we are Americans."

Important issues have been raised, beyond doubt. They must be discussed and settled with calmness. President Truman must recognize that he needs the support of all America, not merely the Democrats, if the nation is to benefit, possibly even survive. He must recognize the need of a truly bipartisan policy. The Republicans must show equally good faith.

Careless Economy

Substantial reasons seem to support the protest of the Pennsylvania Veterans' Council against the Veterans' Administration action in closing 335 beds in the Butler Tuberculosis hospital. The council has submitted its protest to the state's two U.S. senators and 33 members of Congress asking their intervention.

Reasons which prompted the closing order are hard to fathom. The council says "the Butler hospital has a waiting list of 212 and has the facilities to provide adequately the necessary care and treatment," but nevertheless the VA has "reached the unreasonable and unwarranted decision to eliminate 335 beds."

Were other facilities available in the state to care for the veterans needing hospitalization, the VA action might be defensible. As it is, the council aptly points out, the state-operated sanatoria at Mont Alto, Hamburg and Cresson have waiting lists in excess of 400.

Genuine economy in administration of veterans' affairs would deserve real applause; but when saving of money means neglect of such vital health matters as care of tuberculars, there is nothing for which to rise and cheer. If charges made against the Veterans' Administration are true, effective cuts can be made without danger to the public welfare.

Try And Stop Me

A fantastically henpecked husband finally did something entirely on his own initiative. He dropped dead. His nagging wife mourned his loss—and the fact that she had nobody left to badger. A visitor sympathized, "How you must miss dear Wilbur."

"Yes," said the widow wistfully, "it seems but yesterday that he stood at that very door, holding it open until two flies got in."

When James Horan was collecting data for a biography of Jesse James and his gang ("Desperate Men") he wrote letters to literary journals asking for help from surviving friends or relatives of the famed desperado.

One of his answers read, "Why don't you come straight to headquarters? I'm Jesse James himself. I'm 137 years old and I ain't dead—just sickly. Wire me plane fare."

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood — With a smartly coiffured head of new nylon hair, Effie Klinker is taking her hunt for a man to television.

"Are you thinking of marrying anyone?" I asked Effie. "Yes," chirped Edgar Bergen's cheerful old-maid dummy. "Any one."

Edgar tried her out briefly on radio in early '44. He soon withdrew her in the belief she was primarily a visual personality. As Effie says, "I've been sitting around waiting for television to grow up."

Bergen is always searching for new characters with which to vary his ventriloquism. Mortimer Snerd was sketched by Edgar on a table-cloth at Chicago's Chez Paree when Bergen was appearing there and needed a partner for an encore. He still has the Chicago high school text—Medieval and Modern History—on whose flyleaf he sketched in 1922, the first likeness of Charlie McCarthy.

Miss Klinker, named in a contest among listeners, with war bonds as prizes, was first doodled by Bergen on the back of several radio scripts. Half a dozen artists listened to her voice and made a dozen drawings. The final version — upstet nose, arching eyebrows, sensuous lips—was a composite of two or three. A sculptor chiseled her from white pine. Her eager brown eyes are plastic — from a manufacturer who supplies them to humans. Her total cost, including wardrobe was something over $2,500.

Between appearances her detachable head rests, ever cheerful, in a vault in Bergen's combination restaurant-office and TV workshop.

I asked Bergen what he's learned in making three TV films. First, he said, is that movie-trained camera and sound men must get over their demands for perfection. Coughs, sneezes and the like contribute to naturalness, he feels. Occasional mike shadows or imperfect lighting are less important than a spontaneous studio-audience reaction.

Also, a trade-paper critic rapped a recent Bergen performance because his lip-movements showed. "That's unforgivable," he scolded himself. "I've been in radio so long I'm careless."

"When I used to do clubs and theaters my lips were absolutely motionless. A fellow in the Rainbow Room (New York) once bet a friend $10 that Charlie was a midge; that I wasn't doing the talking for him."

These Days — By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

Five Canadian Catholics were arrested in Canton, China, on the charge of killing Chinese babies. What has happened to these nuns, I do not know. A Bronx nun has been arrested or killed—who knows?

Reports from China indicate that the Chinese Communists have entered the stage of persecution of Christian churches, which is a characteristic of Communism throughout the world.

The Chinese Communists contend that they believe in freedom of religion, but they mean by that something altogether different from our conception of freedom. They do believe in freedom of worship, but they reject the right of parents to teach their religion to their own children, nor may the churches propagate their faiths.

"The Manchester Guardian" reported:

"... In one Christian middle school the Communist representative was asked if students might have a prayer meeting in their rooms. His answer was: 'If two people gather together in a room for prayer, that is a meeting and is forbidden. Each student may pray alone in his own room.'"

Freedom of religion in China is, then, a very limited concept based upon the idea that it may be tolerated temporarily, as it will die when capitalism dies. Organized church groups, particularly missionaries, both Catholic and Protestant, are regarded as American spies, as most of them exist on American benefactions.

The YMCA, which used to be one of the most effective Christian organizations in China—a genuine bridge between West and East—seems to have moved over to the left. One of its workers, Dr. Y. T. Wu, takes the position that it is possible to be a Christian and a Marxist at the same time, which seems to me impossible because of the conflict in fundamentals between these concepts of life. Christianity assumes the supernatural; Marxism the materialistic. Christianity assumes that man was created by God; Marxism that man is a biologic creature controlled by his environment and evolving his present form out of a struggle for existence.

Yet, Dr. Wu argues that "God is truth, truth is found in materialistic Communism, therefore in joining the Communists, a man is worshipping truth, which is God."

Certainly this is not Christianity, although it can be regarded as a pantheistic idea that as God is everywhere, he is among the Communists. It is an argument that sounds well to some but is unrelated to Christianity, which is rooted in Jesus Christ as he is described in the synoptic gospels.

The People's Political Consultative Council, held in 1949, seems to have accepted a program of this nature:

"The church must accept the new democracy and the common programme of the people's government. It admits its past connection with imperialism, especially American imperialism, and will strive to waken the church members to realization of the evils of imperialism and capitalism. In principle, the church will discontinue the use of foreign personnel and foreign money, the carrying out of this to be worked out in consultation with the government. The church will become self-governing, self-supporting, and self-propagating. During the period of land reform the church will only hold its routine meetings such as Sunday services, prayer meetings, vestry meetings, and will refrain from all other activities."

This was apparently a tentative

New Yorkers Are Talking About . . .

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's picture, which used to hang at West Point — the space (as we two-fingered-to press) is now bare. Let's wonder why—and get a confirmation or denial . . . New Yorkers are still talking about the poise of a future General. 13-year-old Arthur MacArthur, who remained calm during all the frenzied hoopla. The kid appears to have inherited pop's innate dignity plus a contagious smile . . . The result of the Kefauver probe: At least six films are planned — dealing with a "heroic Senate investigator." (Take it away, Senator Errol Flynn!) . . . The N. Y. Times' financial exploit, who blamed the MacArthur celebrations for the stock market dive. (O, pecans!) . . . Frankie Laine's recording, "Rose, Rose, I Love You." Hits you like a cold shower . . . The fluorescent swimsuits for dolls. Giving the neon touch to every curve and bulge . . . The way the British have discovered a brow — elevating method of evading the heavy "spouse" tax. Get divorced and live in sin. (Big fuss among the British clergy over this.)

The anti-histamine people's blues. They are all shopping for public relations and ad people—big being so rotten. The thing just blew up in their faces. Nobody wants the accounts, it seems. The free firms are also sobbing "Overproduction Blues" . . . Marian Saunders (the platinum blonde—wed to a wealthy Oriental) taking her toy poodle on a shopping tour. The pooch wears a collar made of 3 rows of sq. cut aquamarines! . . . The big buzz about R. Stanley Dollar. If he gets back the stock in American President Lines (which under govt. mgt. ran up from near bankruptcy to 70 million in assets), most of the directors will be out . . . Film critic Bosley Crowther's quipnapper for a forum: "The magnificence of the proportions of actresses of today are better; never before have there been such busts in movies." He means Dollywood has more famous busts than The Hallafame.

Laraine Day's chomping teevy shows preceding the Giants' games. Miss Daydream . . . The godfrey-Jonette Davis version of "When You and I Were Young Maggie Blues"—a bouncy melodrama . . . Broadway shows grossing over $600,000 weekly. Any biz that can attract that much coin is far from Rigor Mortis . . . The rave notices for Gower Champion's dance routines in "Make a Wish." Dansational . . . Spencer Tracy in "Father's Little Dividend." It is always wonderful to witness an actor who can act . . . The Siamese ballet version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in "King and I." Alone worth the admish fee . . . The silly ditty titled "Investigation Blues," inspired by youknowit . . . The fact that Melody & Mirth are Broadway's Steak & Potatoes. 45% of the current attractions are song-and-dancers.

The eye-brow-hoister from the generally prim N. Y. Times. It soul to seek the Lord your God; arise therefore, and build ye the sanctuary of the Lord God, to bring the Ark of the Covenant of the Lord, and the holy vessels of God, into the house that is to be built to the name of the Lord."

As Moses was not permitted to enter the land to which he had led his people through the wilderness for 40 years, but only to view it from a mountain top, so King David was not able to see the fulfillment of his dream of a beautiful temple built to honor his God and to house the Ark.

Memory Verse:—"Thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of Jehovah."—Deuteronomy 6: 18.

quoted this old doggerel: "The queen bee is a busy soul. She has no time for birth control. And that is why in times like these. There are so many Sons of Bees." Jack Lait, co-parent of the sinful "Washington Confidential" best-seller, once deleted it from The Daily Winchell in-toning: "Tell Walter this is a philly paper!" (Ha!) . . . The Philly night club owner not very happy about M. Berle's popular-program and I do not know how many Christian groups accepted it. But it represents what Soviet China expects of Christianity. It expects nothing more than a ritualistic religion limited to those who have already accepted it and for no one else.

Christian churches, including the Nestorian church and the early Jesuit and Dominican missionary efforts, have been in China over 1,000 years. The Nestorians' (635) developed into an important religious group with a wide distribution in Central Asia. It was, after a period of affluence, persecuted. The Jesuits and Dominicans were great powers in Peking four centuries ago.

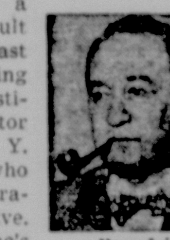

The modern Protestant and Catholic impact upon China began at about 1807 when Robert Morrison came to China. They established schools, colleges, hospitals, churches, orphanages and such charitable institutions. At one time, American Christian groups had an investment of $250,000,000 in such works.

Since 1927, the tendency has been to turn these properties over to Chinese Christians, with the Americans as aids and advisers. Now all this is being taken over by international Communism to be used for the glorification of Karl Marx.

With children. When he appeared at the Latin Casino the place was jammed with mothers and their tots (all in love with Uncle Miltie), but they drank nuttin' but milk! . . . Get the Net Dep't: Gerald L. K. Smith, who now ends his phony meetings with a public prayer to the Almighty: That Gen. MacArthur is "all mixed up." He doesn't know what the war is all about nor what it is for.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Brandeis

Almost every business and every job has its advantages and its drawbacks, I suppose.

Pretty nearly everybody thinks that the other fellow's job is better than his own, and fortunate are those who are happy in their work.

Taking it altogether, newspaper work is a good profession, or business if you want to call it that.

Newspapermen seldom get rich, but there is a certain amount of adventure in it. That is probably why people so often talk about the newspaper "game."

But newspapering, too, has its disadvantages.

If you make a mistake in most any other work the boss notices it, a customer may complain, you get bawled out and that is that. But when you write something that is to be printed, every word of yours becomes public property — to be interpreted or misinterpreted at the will, the character, the prejudices of every reader who pays a nickel for his paper.

Then the complaints come. Then you are accused of this and of that.

Most of the insults are anonymous. They don't hurt. They go into the wastebasket with the rest of the trash.

But sometimes you are accused of something entirely unjust by someone who is not too cowardly to sign his name and who apparently takes honest issue with you. I had such a case just a little while ago.

The letter came from an apparently well-educated woman. But she must have had a pretty bad deal from life.

Her husband left her with two children — without money and without happiness.

She is getting along in years, and there doesn't seem to be much of a future for her, she thinks.

So she wrote me a long letter in which she accused me of being "smug."

She told me that I sounded conceited, that I bragged about my domestic happiness, about my wife, about the things we have. Nothing could be farther from the facts.

In this column of mine I try to give my readers a bit of cheer and encouragement.

I want to show them that so much CAN be got out of life without wealth, without any great endowment of talent, with just a fair supply of common sense and the WILL to be happy.

The only reason I mention my wife and myself is that neither she nor I are rich, ever were rich, ever will be rich.

What my correspondent calls smugness is really GRATITUDE. It is gratitude to God that He has given us the FACULTY to be happy. It is gratitude to God that He has given us the humility to be satisfied with what we have and saved us from the curse of wanting what we KNOW we cannot have.

What little we have put and kept together we have gotten by working TOGETHER for almost thirty years, by not trying to be more or do more than what we are qualified to be and do.

Smugness is like a full-blown rose that has been cut and put into a vase. In a few days it is withered and gone.

Happiness is like a sturdy tree which, planted in good soil and getting its proper share of sunshine and rain, keeps growing till the very end.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

What A Week!

The Kefauver Crime Committee report, sensational and sweeping as it is, gets an Oscar for bad timing. It was issued simultaneously with the Wedemeyer report, the opening of the MacArthur hearings in Congress, the end of the Giants' slump and the outbreak of the Rita Hayworth-Prince Aly Khan war. Whether the recommendations of the committee will bring all-out action will depend on whether the committee, with a new pitcher, Herbert O'Connor, on the mound, makes the most of its newly voted summer run or just does light road work and shadow boxing from here on, with fleeting touches of television.

With summer weather, crucial baseball series and the picnic season at hand, there is a strong probability that all the Senate did was to vote the crime problem a wonderful time in which to die. Come on, Estes! How about singing "Old PROBERS Never Die!" Quite a few blows against the underworld will be struck in various cities as a result of the shocking Kefauver report. The Congress will pass some of the proposed legislation. But there will be no epochal follow-through unless the committee uses its four months of added life with the "Three V" (vigor, vim and video) routine it was employing when the previous contract expired a month ago. Committee members have said that during the May to September life extension, there will be little time for the television technique which dramatized the crime picture, pumped it into millions of homes and alerted the nation. They had better change their mind on that if they want to sustain the public hopes and throw everything in the book at the mobsters.

Can you fancy the underworld getting the law-abiding world on the run and then deciding to pull its punches, cut out a vital element in its showmanship and make the performance duller? Can you imagine a Gangster Committee being that close to victory and then, when given four months more time, deciding to drop the very routines which got the greatest results?

No matter how sensational a crime report may be, it is still a report, a thing of paper and ink. And the first week in May is extra hard on any report over two pages long. Millions of Americans are too busy with spring gardens to read anything that doesn't begin with "Till the soil thoroughly, drill holes six inches apart and sprinkle seeds; etc., etc." Millions more are engrossed in batting averages and the MacArthur testimony. And think of all the people who are digging worms to go fishing!

The Kefauver Committee originally intended to make its report around the end of March, which would have been the height of the open season on filing reports. Instead it allowed public interest to grow cold. And this week it announced its findings at a time of so many sensations that the public is all mixed up.

The well-known Garbie Sisters were discussing it today. "I think General McKefauver's charges are terrific and that all racketeers in and out of office should be indicted no matter what the General Staff thinks of interstate crime," said one. "The MacArthur report is scandalous," said her sister. "We should attack Costello's bases in Manchuria, Saratoga, New Orleans or anywhere else." It just goes to show.

Happiness is like a sturdy tree which, planted in good soil and getting its proper share of sunshine and rain, keeps growing till the very end.

The letter came from an apparently well-educated woman. But she must have had a pretty bad deal from life.

The Real News Newsreel

Top Secret: A letter from one government bureau to another asking what became of a letter with reference to a letter . . . Draw poker has been outlawed by one branch of the California state legislature. Probably a natural result of the deuces wild fad . . . An American Air Force officer is being tried in Italy on a charge of embezzling $80,000 from the army through taking a 5 per cent cut on headstones for the American soldier dead. If true, this would seem to establish a new world record for "low" flying. With perhaps a headstone for him with the epitaph: "Here lies a gent who got 5 per cent; he didn't collect on this, I suspect." . . . You would think that if Harry Truman could invite Toots Shor, Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall and others to sit on his piano he might be similarly cordial to Doug MacArthur . . . We know a man who is so absorbed in the MacArthur hearings he thinks Congress should hold double-headers.

The Kefauver Committee threw not only the book at Bill O'Dwyer, but both book ends.

The underworld is getting great comfort from the fact the Kefauver Committee report is too long for most people to read. The latest racket is offering to read it for a slight charge.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Why in the spring when, as now every tree is blazing with blossoms and the lilac is beginning to scent the air and everything is wholly lovely, is there such a tinge of melancholy?

Perhaps it's because so much loveliness is hard to bear unalloyed, perhaps because it's so fleeting and we have so little time to look, and perhaps because we associate the smell of honeysuckle with valentines—graduations, final meetings, fond goodbyes.

Sort of catches you unaware. My, isn't it beautiful, you say, sniffing and expanding in the dusk—and then it comes—the ache of sadness.

Oh, it soon wears away when you're all indoors with the lamps all lit—and it isn't there at all during the day when you can see the weeks coming up in the rose bud, the plants waiting to be planted, the lawn waiting to be mowed.

And maybe all we need is sulphur and molasses, but it seems more spiritual than that.

Music Club To Present Guest Baritone In Concert Sunday

The Music Study club of the Stroudsburgs will present Roy Wilde as the guest artist at their annual sacred concert to be given Sunday night, May 6, at 7:30 p. m., at a community worship service in the Stroudsburg Methodist church.

Mr. Miller has a baritone voice of exceptional quality. A young man, he has already sung at Robin Hood Dell and at Lewisohn stadium under the direction of Dimitri Mitropoulos. He has been heard with the American Opera Co., of Philadelphia, at the Berkshire Festival, and has sung at least fifteen oratorios.

He was born in London, Ontario, and was already established as a singer when he served three and a half years in the Navy on Atlantic convoy duty. After the war he won a scholarship to the Academy of Vocal Arts in Philadelphia, of which he is now a graduate.

During the last month, he has sung in four opera performances, three oratorios, a series of concerts in Canada and on several television programs.

For his program here he will sing two groups of songs. The first will open with a solo from Mendelssohn's "Elijah" from which he will sing "Lord God of Abraham," and will include "The Voice in the Wilderness," by Scott, and "Spirit of God," Neidlinger.

The second group will include "O God Have Mercy," from Mendelssohn's "St. Paul," "The Lord is My Shepherd" by Liddle, and "It is Enough," from "Elijah" by Mendelssohn.

The music club chorus, directed by Marian A. Reinhardt, will sing three numbers with Eloise Lewis and Anna B. Gish as accompanists, and Lucy F. Quig as organist.

Musical At Smithfield Scores Hit

The band concert at Smithfield Consolidated school on Thursday night filled the auditorium to capacity, even to the seventy-five chairs which had been added.

Featuring the junior band, rhythm band, girls' chorus and the senior band, the program was an ambitious one, skillfully performed under the direction of Paul Bartholomew, who is also principal of the school.

The program was dedicated to the alumni of the Smithfield band now playing in East Stroudsburg and Stroudsburg bands who were welcomed individually by Mr. Bartholomew, and then by the Smithfield band who played their alma mater as they joined the ranks of the players for "Heroic Overture" by Taylor, one of the most ambitious numbers on the program, and for the closing numbers.

Terry Bartholomew, Eddie Dolan, George Eilenberger, Nancy May, Martha Mosier, Sherry Plattenburg, Ralph Smith, Bob Terrell and Russell Treible were welcomed from ESHS and Pat Burnley from SHS.

The junior band of thirty members was first on the program with five numbers; the rhythm band coached by Dorcas Pyle played three numbers under the baton of Penny Reid.

The girls chorus, accompanied by Ruth Shook sang a group of four numbers climaxed by "Cherry Ripe" and "Little Boy Blue." There were forty-three girls in the chorus.

The senior band of 40 pieces plus their visitors formed the climax of the program. A trumpet trio featuring Jerry Wendt, Carol Burnley and Daniel Marvin scored in "Triad," and a novelty number was conducted by Donald Dunlap, who achieved "long hair" status by means of a kitchen mop.

The junior and senior band and the chorus presented a gift of appreciation to Mr. Bartholomew, and a corsage to Mrs. Shook with the rhythm band presenting flowers to Mrs. Pyle. Nancy Westbrook made the presentation. Personnel was as follows:

Children Tour New York City In School Trip

A tour of New York City climaxed a year of study for the members of the fifth and sixth grades at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College Laboratory school on Thursday. Fifty-seven children and teachers, including Dr. John Wildrick and Miss Josephine Kerns, made the trip by chartered bus.

They combined a wide range of interests, with the Statue of Liberty with its attendant boat ride as the first port of call. They watched the activities in the harbor, and then went by bus up to Times Square on their way to the Museum of Natural History.

A trip through Harlem led to the Bronx Zoo where they spent considerable time. They took lunches for both meals, but stopped on the way home at O'Dowd's Milk Bar. They entered New York by the Holland Tunnel and left by way of the George Washington bridge.

The whole trip was termed very successful.

Mrs. Eliza Cokerly president in her introductory remarks reviewed briefly some of the highlights of the story of man's efforts to control his own fertility from earliest history to the present.

In summary Mrs. Cokerly said, "The program of education for marriage and parenthood sums up the whole of Planned Parenthood. We believe in the fundamental freedom of all peoples to reproduce the quality and quality of human beings who are capable of sustaining a democracy." She also summarized the year's work at the local clinic.

Thomas Knepp, a member of the local Planned Parenthood Board and biology teacher at Stroudsburg High school, showed two films, "Human Reproduction" and "The Creation of Life," then led the discussion about the use of these and similar films in biology classes at Jr. High, High school and college levels.

In answering the question about the best place for this teaching, he said that although the home is ideally the best, the biology class has the advantage of ready, accurate information and the objective point of view.

The Pilgrim Holiness church of Pocono Lake is conducting an evangelistic campaign.

Rev. William Pratt, of Indianapolis, Ind., is bringing messages each night until May 13.

The young people of the congregation have been furnishing music.

Special Emphasis Placed On Attendance Of Young People At Church Services

In the churches of East Stroudsburg throughout May, a strong emphasis upon the attendance of young people in the churches of their choice is being carried forward by student groups within the junior and senior High schools, by lay leaders and Sunday school class teachers, and by the following pastors, Rev. Frank Wingerter, Rev. William F. Wunder, Rev. Norman R. Savage, Rev. B. H. Hostetter and Rev. Harold C. Eaton.

Already much groundwork and preparation for this observance has been done. Each church is handling the program in its own way and through the leadership of key people both in the congregation and in the youth organizations. It is the desire on the part of both public school teachers and religious leaders that there shall be on the part of all parents and all young people a high spirit of loyalty that will result in the attendance of every young person in the church of his choice every Sunday during the month.

It is felt that out of this effort vital community betterment may be achieved and that some tangible assets will have accrued as present.

Several Department of Public Assistance cases are on the agenda, it was reported by District Attorney Deilett A. Hansen yesterday afternoon.

One involves an action brought against Samuel VanAken, of 245 Willow St., East Stroudsburg, for the support of his mother, who brought the action.

George Oney, of Delaware Water Gap, and Stanley Deiter are also expected to appear before the court relative to proceeding instituted several months ago based on their having accepted public assistance money while employed, which earnings it was stated they failed to report.

John W. Pirzer, of Stroudsburg, RD 2, arrested by Officer John Trethway of the Stroudsburg police force, charged with driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, who is out on bail, is also expected to appear before the court and enter a plea.

It is also likely that several civil cases will also come up for argument during the session.

Unified Free World Opinion Essential In Fight Against Communists, Analyst Insists

By J. M. Roberts Jr.
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

General MacArthur, by expressing the view that the United States should carry the war into Communist China regardless of whether the United Nations Allies would go along, finally gets down to one of fundamentals which brought about his dismissal from command.

That is just what the Allies suspected MacArthur of trying to do—ignore their opinions. It brought a deal of pressure on the Truman administration. It caused MacArthur to look on MacArthur, for the moment, as more dangerous to their long-range policies than even the Kremlin.

If there is one thing more true about the conflict with Russia than any other, it is that unified world opinion and world cooperation against Communist imperialism is essential. Remove the sanction of the United Nations from American intervention in Korea, and you have immediately a situation that is already difficult enough to avoid—a situation in which Asiatic opinion about American intentions will be more seriously divided than ever. In fact, it would just about put the clincher on their feeling that there is no good choice between Russia and the west.

The U. N., torn by conflicting interests already, with its most influential members far more interested in the practical defense of Western Europe than in an idealistic defense of Korea, has just about washed its hands of the affair, leaving the whole business up to the United States. But the American commander in Korea still commands token forces from more than a dozen other countries, and the delegation to Washington if her actions caused defection from the ranks of the Allies.

MacArthur is a strong soldier. It is only natural that a soldier should chafe when he thinks himself handcuffed by political consideration. America is strong, and willing to fight. But Americans have not looked into the faces of basemented children while the bombs crump crump outside. Until they have shared that feeling they are going to have to compromise a bit with the feelings of those who have.

Stroudsburg High Suffers Fourth Loss At Northampton, 2-1

Fetherman's One-Hit Mound Job Wasted

Northampton—Alden "Red" Fetherman pitched a one-hit ball game here against Northampton High school yesterday, but even a near-perfect pitching performance by the strong armed right hander failed to keep Stroudsburg High from dropping its fourth game in five outings this year. The home club pushed across one run in the bottom of the eighth, to gain a 2-1 victory.

Scores Of Local Interest

Stroudsburg, 4; Catawago, 0.
Emmons, 17; Lehigh, 0.
Whitfield, 9; Palmerton, 6.
Wilson, 17; Hollersbach, 7.
Coplay, 9; Fountain Hill, 6.

Innings, but was forced into over time when the two rivals fought to a 1-1 deadlock.

Stroudsburg was plagued with its usual trouble—unable to hit when the chips are down. The Mountaineers blasted out seven safeties yesterday, but were able to score only one run, it coming in the fourth inning.

Fetherman struck a blow in his own behalf when he opened the frame with his second of three singles and raced to third on the same play, from where he scored when Gene Caskie also drew a life on an error.

The Game
Northampton came back to tie the count in the bottom of the same round, as Dick Mikits drew a life on an error, went to second on a passed ball and scampered home as Ed Mishko singled for the only Northampton hit of the ball game.

Fetherman and Johnny Mickey, who also pitched an outstanding game, sailed into the eighth inning tied up tighter than next week's pay check. However, the home team pushed across the winning run in the overtime session without the benefit of a hit.

Jim Moore was safe on an error, went to second on still another boot, advanced to third on an infield out and scored a moment later on another passed ball, the second of the game by usually reliable Layton DeHaven, who was catching under the handicap of an injured finger.

Fetherman retired six batters on strikes, while Mickey set 13 Stroudsburg swingmen down in the same manner. Each hurler allowed one free ticket to first base.

Three singles enabled Fetherman to lead the Stroudsburg offense, while DeHaven doubled in the seventh for the only extra base hit of the ball game.

Stroudsburg returns to action Tuesday, when the Mountaineers play host to Palmerton, at Gordon Giffels field, at 4 p. m.

Congressman Favors Baseball

New York, (AP)—Rep. Emmanuel Celler (D) of Brooklyn, an ardent fan of baseball, came out yesterday in favor of a full airing of the disputed reserve clause with possible action by Congress to exempt the great American game from the anti-trust laws.

Kennedy Situation
"In my opinion baseball is now operating in violation of the anti-trust laws," said Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary subcommittee on monopoly, in an interview.

"We should not permit matters to drift any longer. Baseball is one of the finest things in American life, but it is in danger."

ESSTC Track, Tennis Squads In Action Today

Track and tennis will dominate today's athletic agenda at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, with the former operating on the home grounds and the latter event finding the girls stacking up against New York University, on the latter's home courts in New York. The track meet is scheduled for 2 p. m. and the tennis matches at 11 a. m.

The track meet will be the only home affair of the season and will send the charges of Coach Howard DeNike against Ithaca College. ESSTC finished

Bumper Field Of Entries To Battle For Record Purse In Seventy-Seventh Running Of Derby

Louisville, Ky., (AP)—A bumper field of 23 thoroughbreds was named yesterday to slug it out in today's seventy-seventh Kentucky Derby, which should produce one of the greatest traffic jams ever witnessed on any race track.

Indications were that all but one of those entered actually will reach the post at 5:30 (EDT) this afternoon. This would tie the record field of 22 which ran in the 1928 Derby, won by Reigh Count.

The winner almost surely will collect the biggest purse in Derby history. If 22 go the big prize will be $100,000, which comes to a nice day's haul. The present Derby record is the $96,400 won by King Ranch's Assault in 1946, when 17 ran.

Nowhere, at any time, has there been seen a more confident lot of owners and trainers than trooped into the secretary's office yesterday and dropped the names into the box. They all think they're going to win the mile and a quarter race.

Impossible
That is an obvious impossibility, but the mob of experts infesting Churchill Downs can't help unravel the mystery as to the probable victor. Any sampling of expert opinion quickly produces the names of a dozen horses which might, as they say, take it all. The thing is wide open.

In the draw for post positions—which can be tremendously important in such a huge field—the prize number one stall went to The Gink, an outsider owned by the Brown Hotel Stable. From there they will be strung across the track clear to Brownlee's Comb in the remote 23 spot.

The Gink will run only if today's track is muddy, which is supposed to be a remote possibility. If the track remains fast—and it has been extremely fast all week—the Gink's place will be taken by his stablemate Snuzzle, which drew the number 16 lane.

Stanley Mikell of Dover, Del., the owner of Repetitive, winner of the Wood memorial, plucked the positions out of the hat and did a very sloppy job on his own animal. He pulled Repetitive's name for the twenty-first position.

The track handicapper finally made up his mind yesterday that the C. V. Whitney entry of Name-luck and Countpoint will be his favorite at 3-1 in the morning lane. Considering the size of the field, this struck the experts as a very short price, indeed.

Phil's Trip Cards
On Meyer's Hit
Philadelphia, (AP)—Pitcher Russ Meyer drove two runs across the plate in the fifth inning last night to win his own game as the Philadelphia Phillies squared the series with the St. Louis Cardinals with a 4-4 victory.

Meyer was touched for nine hits, including home runs by "Peanuts" Lowrey and Joe Garagiola, but never was in serious danger after the National League champions jumped on Howie Pollet and Cloyd Boyer for four runs in the first inning.

Wild
Pollet, making his first of the season, did not last out the inning. After disposing of the first two men he became wild and walked three men. The free tickets with Eddie Kazak's boot accounted for one run. And Del Wilber's single sent two more home before Boyer came in and let Gran Hamner score the fourth tally on a wild pitch.

Yankees Crush Browns
St. Louis (AP)—New York's Mickey Mantle boomed out his second homer of the season with a man on last night and the Yankees took it from there to crush the St. Louis Browns, 8-1, behind the eight-hit pitching of Ed Lopat.

New York 011 002 310—8 15 1

Coach Mary Whitenight's tennis team will be searching for its second win of the season, when it opposes the Violets of NYU. The singles matches will be handled by Jean Hecht, Elaine Hardenberg and Pauline Shetlock. The two doubles team will be made up of Alma Corson and Mary Martin and Catherine Gerhart and Janice Hudak.

The ESSTC ladies defeated the Alumnae and then lost to Swarthmore in their two matches to date.

Barrett Rallies To Nip TTHS, 5-3

Maglie Allows Single Safety As Giants Win

New York, (AP)—Pittsburgh's Pete Castiglione tripled to start the game but after that Sal Maglie halted the Pirates without a hit as he paced the New York Giants to a 5-1 victory.

Only a slim crowd of 3,947 paying customers were in the Polo grounds to watch the 34-year-old right-hander spin the Major League's second one-hitter of the young season. Washington's Connie Marrero pitched the other one against the Philadelphia A's on April 26.

The Giants broke out in a rash of four homers to back Maglie's superb hurling which stopped a four-game Pittsburgh winning streak.

Bobby Thomson blasted a homer with one on in the first and "Hawk" Thomson followed with another in the same frame to get Maglie off to a 3-1 lead. "Spider" Jorgensen collected his second homer in two days in the third and Monte Irvin poled the last one in the seventh.

Maglie, in making his record 2-2 for the season, struck out five Bucs and walked five. Outside of the first inning, when Castiglione tripled, and in the third, when he walked three, he never was in trouble.

Air Tight
From the fourth until two were out in the ninth, he didn't permit a man to reach first. Ralph Kiner, the Pirates' big slugger, walked in the ninth to break Maglie's curvball spell. Then Pete Reiser jopped out to Eddie Stanky at second to end the game.

Castiglione, the league's leading hitter, led off the first frame by whaling the ball to deep left center for his three-bagger. Alvin Dark threw out George Metkovich and Castiglione held third. He then scored on Gus Bell's grounder to Irvin.

In the second inning, center fielder Bobby Thomson got Maglie out of danger. Reiser walked to start the inning and then stole second. George Strickland fanned. Maglie, trying carefully to cut the corners with his curves, walked Monty Basgall and Ed Fitz Gerald to load the bases.

Wally Westlake, batting and six in the fourth, Walk and Taylor combined to hold the Nazareth bats silent in the late frames.

Bob Rissmiller, winning pitcher, struck a major blow in his own behalf, when he slammed out a mighty home run. Carroochi also divided the mound chore for the Nazareth forces.

Blue Mountain League Opens Campaign With Four Contests

Eight teams will go to the post in the Blue Mountain league for the sixth year tomorrow, with all four contests scheduled to get under way at 2:30 p. m. Portland, East Bangor, West Bangor, Johnsonville, Tatamy, Roseto and Stockertown are returning from last year, while Pocono A. C., an entry from Monroe county, replaces Pen Argyl, a team that dropped out of competition last year at mid-season.

Tomorrow's opening agenda will feature East Bangor, Portland, Tatamy and Stockertown as the home team, with each contest listed to get under way at 2:30 p. m.

Pocono A. C. will make its initial venture into the circuit at Tatamy, with Manager John Schoonover putting the starting pitching assignment up to Chet Lucki, veteran right hander. The remainder of the Pocono A. C. array will feature Doug Schoonover, center field; Dewey Marting, second base; Don Sweda, left field; Danny Eppley, first base; John Drew, catcher; Jimmy Werkheiser, shortstop; Dick Schaller, right field; Dick Miller, third base, and Lucki, pitcher.

Big Time
East Bangor will play host to the defending title holder, both regular season and playoff, in the person of West Bangor tomorrow. A pre-game parade from mid-East Bangor, an address by Attorney James Pritchard, a flag raising ceremony and band music will feature the pre-game activity which is listed for 2 p. m. The game is listed for one-half hour later. Jim Dietz will hurl for East Bangor, and either Elio Uliana or Charley Verona for West Bangor.

Portland drew Johnsonville as its opening day foe and the battle will be fought on the Portland field. Dr. Howard Ott, chief burgess, will throw out the first ball. The Ladies' auxiliary will be in charge of the refreshment concession.

Last but not least on the list of tomorrow's contests will find Roseto stacking up against Stockertown, on the latter's home field. Featured in the Roseto lineup will be Dick Pritchard, pitcher; Lyle Krall, shortstop; Harold Sisco, third base; Anthony Franchino, second base; Mike Renaldi, first base; Sabo, catcher, and an outfield consisting of Manager Harold "Hal" Nerino, John Liberto and Phil Braun.

Next Sunday Pocono A. C., Roseto, West Bangor and Portland will play in their home fields.

Winner Takes Over Number One Position

Pocono Pines — Barrett High moved into sole possession of first place in the northern division of the Monroe County Baseball league here yesterday afternoon, after scoring a 5-3 decision over Tobyhanna Township High, on the latter's home field.

Two runs in the final inning brought home the bacon for the Barrett contingent coached by Joe Murray.

The visiting Barrett nine assumed a 1-0 lead in the first inning and increased the advantage to 3-0 at the end of the second round.

Die Score
"Dink" Ehrgood seemed on his way to a shutout victory, but the TTHS contingent ganged up on him for three tallies in the bottom of the sixth.

However, Merlyn "Abe" Mays, back on even terms for the first time since the beginning of the game, was unable to halt the Barrett power and the visiting team went on to pick up two runs in the seventh and bring home the victory.

Barrett has won both of its league starts thus far this season, while TTHS has now evenly divided the same number of circuit appearances on the baseball diamond.

Members of the Pocono Mountain League who haven't submitted their rosters or paid their entry fees as yet, are urged to have them ready to be presented at Monday night's special meeting of the circuit at the Barionsville Hotel. If one or two clubs fail to comply with this league ruling, the season may open with less than the planned ten teams. From the tone of recent conversations, it sounds as if league officials really mean business.
